

UNFORGETTABLE ADVENTURE AWAITS.

Welcome to Golden Powder Guiding!

We're absolutely delighted that you've chosen to join us for an unforgettable ski touring experience in the enchanting terrain surrounding Golden, BC. As your adventure is just around the corner, here's some essential information to get you mountain ready!

MEET UP:

Your guide will communicate with you in the days leading up to the trip. Backcountry trips are weather dependent, be ready to change location should the conditions require it. Getting to our regular touring destinations can be a harrowing experience. Make sure to check DRIVE BC for road and your phone for weather conditions. Give yourself ample time to make it to your meet up spot.

HOW TO PREPARE 'GETTING READY FOR THE BALL'

PHYSICAL PREP:

Training:

Turn those noodles into muscles! The mountains are a stage, and you're the star – so let's get you ready for the performance. You'll want to be ready for a minimum of 1000m per day

Equipment Familiarity:

Know thy gear, know thyself. A bond between an adventurer and their equipment is as sacred as the mountains themselves.

MENTAL PREP:

Risks Understanding:

Keep an eye on the avalanche hazards at AvCan before you're trip.

Terrain and Weather Wisdom:

Know what you're comfortable in. Know what you are not. Let us know and we can make sure you end up in the type of terrain you're most stoked on.

DAY OF THE ADVENTURE:

Weather Check:

We've got our eyes on the skies and will keep you updated on the weather to expect.

Safety First:

Rest assured, our guides are well-versed in all safety protocols. You're in capable hands.

Group Gear:

Worry not, we've got the group gear covered, including emergency tarps, repair kits, and first aid essentials. We're all about that 'safety first' life.

WE'RE HERE TO HELP 'STAY CLOSE BY AND SLEEP WELL'

REACH OUT:

Got questions? Need more info? Feel a bit of pre-adventure excitement? Give us a shout. We're here and ready to assist.
